“The Host-Microbiota Relationship and Intestinal Homeostasis”

Theresa Alenghat, PhD

January 7, 2016
12:45 - 1:30pm
MSB Room 5051
University of Cincinnati
College of Medicine

Dr. Alenghat's lab focuses on the molecular mechanisms, including epigenomic pathways, that mediate the host-microbiota relationship and on determining how this regulation affects the development of chronic diseases, such as inflammatory bowel disease. Dr. Alenghat looks forward to sharing her perspectives on the significance of the gut microbiome, and her enthusiasm for basic research and its impact on important public health issues.
